Connexus Credit Union Holds 2017 Annual Meeting

Wausau, Wis. (June 15, 2017) – On June 14, Connexus Credit Union held its 82nd Annual Meeting at Northcentral Technical College to provide an annual update to credit union stakeholders on the financial health of the organization.

The Annual Meeting was attended by Connexus’ Board of Directors, employees, and members. Board Vice Chair Mike Steinberg and Connexus President and CEO J. David Christenson both addressed attendees to highlight the credit union’s achievements in 2016.

The primary themes of the meeting were access and growth. Christenson said Connexus improved on both throughout 2016, leading to a successful year for the credit union.

“As a credit union with members across the nation, we emphasize providing various channels for our members to access their accounts,” he said. “We want to make sure our members in New York, for example, have the same opportunities as the members in Wausau who live three blocks from a branch. Our many Online & Mobile Banking improvements are just one example of how we have reached new heights in the areas of access and growth.”

When it came to growth, the highlight was Connexus’ net income growth. Connexus posted a 93.5 percent net income growth versus 2015. There were also 33.1 percent more registered Online & Mobile Banking users in 2016 versus 2015.

A highlight of the meeting occurred in the closing moments when Gary Klingbeil was presented with a commemorative clock for his seven years of credit union service as a member of the Connexus Board of Directors.
